Ketso is a hands-on kit for creative engagement. Ketso gives everyone a voice. When everyone is engaged, we are:

- more productive
- more creative
- more committed

Ketso can be used whenever people want to come together to learn from each other, explore ideas and develop plans. With this re-usable 'workshop in a bag' plus a growing library of free resources and workshop plans, you have decades of practical experience at your fingertips.

Ketso is being used for planning projects and team discussions, training and teaching, as well as for stakeholder and community engagement.

A Ketso kit provides a re-usable set of tabletop tools to capture and display people's ideas.

"I'm amazed at how much we got through in two hours, and by the quality and quantity of the ideas people came up with. Ketso prevents you getting bogged down."

Anne Turner,
Senior Business Consultant,
Scottish Environment
Protection Agency

As well as universities and schools across the UK, Ketso is being used by: MerseyCare NHS; Peak District National Park; Scottish Environment Protection Agency; Portsmouth County Council; The Equality Network; GroundWork; IONA Community; Nottingham Building Society; Tesco; United Utilities; National Crafts Council of Bangladesh; Ethiopian Institute of Architecture and many more...
